Response to objective of superannuation proposal

Renato Mota, CEO Insignia Financial said:

“Australians need security and confidence as they save for retirement, and we welcome the Government’s proposal to legislate the objective of superannuation.

“Superannuation policy should be aligned and focused on delivering sustainable outcomes through members’ working lives in support of their retirement.

“We look forward to a future where superannuation is meaningfully embedded in enhancing the financial wellbeing of all Australians, allowing them to enter retirement confidently.”
